

Elegance & Convenience

in Ocean City

The home of Joyce and Tony DeLuca is a sight to be seen. A symphony of whites, browns, grays and black beautifully harmonize to create an elegant, yet edgy and modern home. With bold décor, modern appliances, excellent color choices and daring vision, only one thing can break the gaze of intrigued guests: their beach-side view from several stories up. Their three bedroom/three full bathroom condo is an enticing glimpse of what would-be buyers can expect to see at The Gateway Grand, an exclusive condo residence at 48th St., in Ocean City, Md.

To gain entry into The Gateway Grand, visitors must be buzzed in by their hosts. Once inside, guests will notice the reception area of The Gateway Grand is large and stylish, with modern furniture, large plants, and a beautiful view of dunes and the beach. Five spacious and timely elevators provide easy access to condos above the first floor.

A hallway offers visitors just a taste of the DeLuca's lovely home. Throughout the entire condo beautiful furniture and unique decorative pieces are perfectly placed — many of which were selected with the expertise of John Meyers of The Monkey's Trunk.

Originally from Baltimore, the DeLucas raised their two

Tony and Joyce DeLuca.

BY EDUARDO GONZALEZ
PHOTOGRAPHY BY HEATHER MAY

The kitchen is modern and stylish with granite counters, stainless steel appliances, and clear and smoked glass backsplash.